

Steamtown, U.S.A. is a working, growing museum. Future plans include much-needed housing to preserve the exhibits during the severe winter months as well as completion of first-class shop facilities which will allow restoration projects to continue on a year-round basis. Dioramic displays are planned to place many of the exhibits in their natural habitat, providing a realistic "visitation experience" for Steamtown visitors. Additional equipment, including early diesel and electric locomotives, is being sought to illustrate the evolution from steam power to other forms of energy. With your help, Steamtown can reach its long-range goals. Your membership in "Friends of Steamtown" or the PV Club will aid Steamtown's historic preservation efforts.
